FIFTH MINISTERIAL CONFERENCE ON THE INFORMATION SOCIETY IN LATIN AMERICA AND THE CARIBBEAN

Mexico City, 5-7 August 2015

GENERAL INFORMATION
INTRODUCTION

The fifth Ministerial Conference on the Information Society in Latin America and the Caribbean will be held in Mexico City from 5 to 7 August 2015.

This document is intended to provide delegates with useful information to facilitate their work at the Conference.

The Conference coordinators will be available to answer any questions concerning logistical or organizational matters that you may wish to ask before or during the event.

1. General information on Mexico City

Mexico City is located at an altitude of 2,239 metres in the Valley of Mexico, a large basin in the central Mexican plateau. It covers a total area of 1,485 square kilometres and is divided into 16 boroughs (delegaciones).

According to the federal and state governments, the population of Mexico City is approximately 8.8 million people. The population of the entire greater Mexico City urban area exceeds 21 million people, making it the third largest conurbation in the world—the biggest in the Americas—and the largest Spanish-speaking city anywhere in the world.

Climate

Mexico City has a temperate climate with moderate temperatures all year round. However, due to differences in altitude, some districts of the city have particular climatic conditions, for example, the areas of Sierra del Ajusco and Las Cruces are at a higher elevation than most of the city and therefore have a cooler climate, with higher rainfall and frost in winter.

The city’s climate is pleasant for most of the year, with temperatures averaging around 21°C. The spring and summer months (May to September) are hottest, with afternoon temperatures of up to 29°C. The heaviest rainfall is in August and September.

Useful information

| LOCAL CURRENCY | The national currency is the Mexican peso ($). The exchange rate against the United States dollar fluctuates, but is usually between 13.00 and 13.50 pesos. The current exchange rate can be found here: www.banxico.org.mx/portal-mercado-cambiario/index.html |
| LOCAL TIME     | Mexico City’s time zone is UTC/GMT-6. |
| ELECTRICITY    | 127 volts, 60 hertz (similar to the United States), and wall sockets may be for two- or three-pin plugs. Visitors wishing to use devices not designed for use in North America should bring an adapter with a voltage transformer. |
| WATER          | Drinking tap water is not recommended; visitors are advised to consume only boiled or bottled water. |
| VACCINATIONS  | No vaccinations are required to enter Mexico. |
| SALES TAX AND TIPPING | Value added tax of 16% is levied on most products and services. In restaurants it is customary to leave a tip of between 10% and 15% of the total bill. |
TAXIS

For safety reasons, visitors are advised to use official taxis only. From the airport, to reduce the chances of overcharging, visitors are recommended to use one of the official taxi services, which charge a fixed rate by zone to be paid in advance at the company’s desk in the arrivals area.

Taxi drivers in Mexico do not expect tips, but if the driver helps passengers with luggage or provides any other kind of additional service, it is customary to give a tip of between 5 and 20 pesos.

For travel within the city, the safest option is to use “radio taxis” or “taxis de sitio”. The telephone numbers of three companies are given below:

- Sitio 410: 5545 7505
- Sitio 207: 5580-1595, 5580-0245
- METAX: 5563 7107 (radio taxis)

Before getting into a taxi, ensure that the driver’s official identification (which must have a photograph and an official seal) is on display and that the meter has been reset before your journey begins.

If you still wish to hail a taxi on the street, make sure it is white with one gold and one red stripe, has four doors and a number plate beginning with the letter “A”. Avoid using green taxis.

Between 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. the price on the meter is increased by 20%.

SAFETY

To protect tourists in Mexico City, local police patrol the main tourist attractions, hotels and restaurants. However, visitors are advised to take precautionary measures such as avoiding walking alone late at night and only using ATMs inside banks or shops.

As in all big cities, for your own safety you are advised to refrain from wearing expensive jewellery and to be careful with your belongings.

HEALTH

Mexico City stands at 2,239 metres above sea level, and visitors may experience some discomfort, such as shortness of breath, tiredness, headaches, insomnia or nausea, in their first few hours or first day in the city. To help with acclimatization, visitors are advised to drink plenty of liquid and to avoid alcoholic beverages and strenuous exercise.
